

USC CENTER ON PublicDiploacy

A Partnership of the USC Annenberg School for Communication and the USC College of Letters, Arts & Sciences' School of International Relations

John Brown Meets with Faculty and Students

Tuesday, October 25

4 – 5pm, CPD Conference Room

Join John Brown in a discussion of current issues facing U.S public diplomacy and his recent article A Failed Public Diplomacy published by Tom Paine in October 2005. John Brown is a career Foreign Service Officer and author of most widely read aggregated blogs on public diplomacy, Daily Public Diplomacy Press Review.

John H. Brown

Research Associate at the Institute for the Study of Diplomacy at Georgetown University

John Brown is a consultant for the Library of Congress's "Open World" exchange program with the Russian Federation, he has written for The Washington Post, The Nation online, TomPaine.com, The Moscow Times, and American Diplomacy. Brown, who received a Ph.D. in Russian History from Princeton University in 1977, was a member of the U.S. Foreign Service from 1981 until March 10, 2003 and has served in London, Prague, Krakow, Kiev, Belgrade and Moscow. He is currently writing a book on Propaganda and U.S. Foreign Policy.