

The USC Center on Public Diplomacy, the Center for International Studies, the USC College Global Cultures Initiative & the Italian Cultural Institute present

Literature & Diplomacy: Bringing Italian Literature to the U.S.

FRIDAY, APRIL 27 at 11:00am
ASC 207

Join in a discussion with CPD Deputy Director Sherine B. Walton and U.S. Diplomat-in-Residence Stephen Seche

featuring

Claudio Magris

Magris, novelist, author of the internationally best selling Danube, critic, essayist, and scholar will be discussing and reading from his work Voices: Three Plays which has recently been translated into English. He is the recipient of several literary awards. Other featured guests include:

Diego Brasioli
Italian Consul General

Francesca Valente
Director of the Italian
Cultural Institute

Paul Vangelisti American poet and translator of Italian literature

Jole Zanetti
Italian author of *Diario
Africano* and Lacune

